

Free Assemblies About the Drought & Water Conservation!

H<sub>2</sub>O, Where Did You Go?

“H<sub>2</sub>O, Where Did You Go?” Is a two-man musical comedy about the water cycle, the states of matter, the journey of water to homes, and water conservation. Performed in Southern California since 2005, thousands of K-6 students have enjoyed this live performance while learning the importance of water and what each individual can do to help save it. Aligned with State Content Standards.

“All students (K-6) were engaged and participated in the student-friendly, age appropriate, visually stimulating water conservation assembly- they learned how they could easily apply water conservation at home and at school- very fun and motivating.”

- Ms. Celesta Darga, Principal of Monroe

“The water assembly was excellent. The students were engaged and many were singing along with the presenters. The songs were engaging enough to motivate the students to learn the water cycle and the importance of water conservation.”

- Mrs. Pattenau, Monroe School, 2nd Grade.

For scheduling, contact Mark Beckwith from Shows That Teach
(818) 422-1872 or showsthatteach.com/sbcwa

This free assembly is sponsored by the City of Santa Barbara and the Santa Barbara County Water Agency.

